Coleman High School Held Featured High Light of Year

(By Ladik Tymchyna)

The Coleman High School annual graduation banquet and dance held on May 20, 1955, a featured high-light of the year, turned out highly successful as well as an enjoyable affair. The charming young ladies beautifully dressed in formal colorful gowns, appeared as if they were a host of cinderellas. Their tall, dark and handsome escorts, handsomely dressed, appeared very gentlemanly throughout the entire evening.

Due to the wonderful catering of the Ladies of the Royal Purple, the banquet in the Elk's Hall was highly approved. After a grace was given by Miss Mercer, all enjoyed a warm fanciful meal, which proved to be very tasteful and pleasing to all. After this, the president of the High School, Don Sumanik who was toast master for the evening called on Walt Tymchyna to give a toast to the Queen. Following the toast to the queen, Irene Hatalick was very proud to propose a toast to the staff, to which Mr. McDonald responded excellently. Then Betty Pedosuk effectively proposed a toast to the school board, which was responded by Mr. Holy, a school board member for many years. Delina Celli then proudly and effectively proposed a toast to the parents, to which Mr. Celli, her father, responded pleasingly. The Valedictory, a very difficult toast to prepare, was successfully given by Helen Makowichuk. And lastly, the toast to the graduates, which is always given by our principal, Mr. Allan, was excellently expressed and very heartening to anyone who had any emotional feeling at all. Rosanne Pylarz, responded to the latter toast, expressing on behalf of the graduates, their sincere thanks towards the teachers for preparing them the education they will need in the near future. The Queen was played and everyone proceeded over to the auditorium for a short program.

The program started with the grade eleven class singing "Little Street Where Old Friends Meet" and following was Ann Bodish singing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes." An accordion solo by Milan Urskovy — "The Hungarian Dance" and a piano solo called "Dance Creel" by Jo-Ann Montalbet. Followed by a piano duet by Margaret McDonald and Gail Vincent playing "Country Gardens." Then Richard Chernecky sang "The Bells of the Sea" and the grade nine five (all boys) sang "The Drunken Sailor" and "Working on the Railroad." The master of ceremonies, Kent Posner, did an excellent job, considering he was asked on the spur of the moment.

At the end of the program, which incidentally was prepared by Mrs. Cousins, Mr. Allan presented

Pony League, Little League Tourney Poorly Supported

HILLCREST — We truly hope that the weather was the main cause of the poor showing at this tournament. The young boys need our support — it's the money, the dads, and friends who these boys play for, not the dollars and cents that so many athletes play for today.

Support these kids and most of our juvenile problems will vanish. Ron Johnson, a man spending a great deal of time promoting these games, informs me that the calibre of ball played was extremely high considering the infancy of the league. We'll all have a chance to make up for this poor showing on May 29 when Macled plays Hillcrest off for the final prize money. Game time is 3:30 p.m. The results of the two-day tournament are:

LITTLE LEAGUE — Hillcrest 25, Michel 0. John Elik winning pitcher.

PONY LEAGUE — Macled 6, Blairmore 2. Pony League — Hillcrest 7, Michel 4. Fendren Riva winning pitcher. Pony League — Macled 7, Chareholm 4.

the curling trophy to the winning rink. The members of the rink are Eddy Vincent (skip), Jo-Ann Montalbet, (third), Gordon Kerr (second) and Gail Murdoch (first). Eddy, on behalf of his rink, expressed his thanks to Mr. Allan and fellow opponents.

The orchestra, the majority being school pupils, started the dance immediately after the program. The "Swingers" as they call themselves did a very nice job of playing throughout the whole evening. Due to the decorations, the orchestra, the banquet other small details, everyone had a yearning to dance, and that they did. To polkas, foxtrots, tangos and waltzes, the floor was continually crowded, and what a sight to see folks — those young ladies in their colorful gowns and those young gentlemen, handsomely dressed, swinging them. Imagine it.

Then the high light of the evening rolled about. The balloons were released from a suspended net. Hundreds of balloons fell and everyone rushed to see how many they could get without them being broken. What noise, what happiness, balloons breaking everywhere and laughter all over. What a scene to see — the balloons falling, the mad rush and the happy faces — wouldn't that be a lovely picture. The dancing continued for another hour and a half and the well enjoyed event was over.

At this moment, on behalf of the graduates of 1955, I would like to say that there is a deep sense of appreciation and thanks given towards anyone, who in anyway possible helped to make this a highly successful affair. Our graduates, whether they go to college, university, nursing schools or get married, will never forget this event. They will remember old friends even though they might not see them again; they will recall old troubles, sorrows and joys; they will remember the school, it's teachers and that little town, Coleman. But lastly and the most important, they remember their parents and realize the hardships, sorrows and patience they went through to bring you up to what ever you may be. Yes, truly speaking, considering the unfortunate situation in Coleman this combined effort is something that will never be forgotten by our graduates.

Good Luck Graduates.

Large Crowd At Fish and Game Banquet

FRANK — One hundred and forty-seven members of the Crow's Nest Pass Fish and Game Association assembled at the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds, Tuesday, May 24, to hear the following speakers: Mr. George Spargo, Secretary-manager for Alberta Fish and Game Associations; Bruce Stewart, warrant officer for the Yukon Territory; Mr. Them Kjar, Game Commissioner for the Yukon Territory at Whitehorse; Mr. E. Paynter, Game Commissioner for the Province of Saskatchewan; Mr. Lawrence Sheffalmar, District Fish and Game Warden, stationed at Pincher Creek; Mr. MacDonald, chief Fishery Officer in Calgary.

The meeting got under way at 8:00 p.m. when acting chairman Frank Edl introduced Mr. Spargo. It happened to be his birthday and he was greeted with the song "Happy Birthday to You" by those present. Mr. Spargo then introduced Mr. Them Kjar, who informed us that there were 90 Fish and Game Associations in Alberta. Mr. Kjar stressed the need for propagation and conservation of Fish and Game if Alberta was to enjoy the sport, as the increased number of sportsmen would drain the supply. As Game Commissioner of the Yukon Territory, Mr. Kjar had many interesting facts to tell the audience. The Yukon is a large country, comprising 270,000 sq. miles. He felt that this was truly the last stand of the big game. The territory abounds with moose, two species of caribou, sheep of many type and grizzly brown and black bears. The hunting season opens November 30, except moose, which opens on August 15th and closes on November 30th. The Yukon holds the world's record for big game. Mr. Kjar stated, mentioning also that the fishing was wonderful with large arctic grayling and lake trout in abundance. In closing the commissioner extended an invitation to visit him and also to send for free literature that is available from Whitehorse.

Bruce Stewart, also of the Yukon, invited all those present to visit the Yukon, crediting Mr. Kjar for all work in conservation and propagation practiced in the Yukon.

Mr. E. Paynter of Regina, urged all Fish and Game Associations to educate the new generations of sportsmen. Said Mr. Paynter, "You can't legislate a sportsman. We've got to build one by education. Educate ourselves that we may be able to educate the young." "Hunting in Alberta is big business," he said.

iness," he said. "Observe hunting ethics — men can't buy what a man has when he has wild life to enjoy."

Mr. Lawrence Sheffalmar, the new Fish and Game Warden, presently at Pincher Creek, asked for the co-operation of all sportsmen in the Pass.

The next speaker was William "Bill" Kovach, Social Credit representative. Bill welcomed the visiting guests and stated that he has been doing his utmost to see a dream come true. That is, a Fish and Game Commission set up to look after Alberta exclusively. "Extra pressure on wild life necessities such a commission, so that one day the future generations will know wild life as we know it today."

Frank Sicoff, regional representative, thanked Mr. Spargo for his co-operation concerning the new practice of conservation, expressing his confidence that it will save the "Back Door" game in this district.

Mr. MacDonald, impressed with the tremendous natural environment around this district, stated that the department is doing as much as possible with its limited finances. He thanked Mr. Vyshold and Joe Faville for their assistance on his tour through here last year. The meeting was then opened for a question period.

Were Lee and Burmis Lakes Stocked? Mr. MacDonald replied that the government report indicated so and regretted that he was not familiar with this situation. "Experience has proven," he said, "that stocking streams was good for only two to three months or one summer, whereas lake stocking was much more successful. Lake stocking gave more opportunity for trout fishing to a larger group, and also helped relieve the pressure on stream fishing. Concerning the question, "Why should sheep be allowed to graze in reserves, such as Victory and Racehorse?" he suggested that they see the Eastern Rockies Conservation Board. A resolution by Cliff Letcher, to open all gates in this district in regards to prevailing conditions was carried by a large majority, with only 13 against. The resolution will be sent to Hon. Premier Manning; Mr. Casey, Minister of Lands and Mines and Bill Kovach, M.L.A.

A light lunch was served after which Cliff Lee showed two films, "Canada Goose" and "Natures Neighbor", concluding a very successful evening.

Leave Elk River 4:10 p.m. Arrive Blairmore 5:30 p.m.

Afternoon shift: Leave Blairmore 7:15 p.m. Arrive Elk River 3:30 p.m.

Leave Elk River 12:10 p.m. Arrive Blairmore 1:30 a.m.

The Coleman men will catch the bus in the parking lot next to the Rocky Theater. Some twenty miners have been accepted for Fernie mines and there are openings for more.

Board of Trade to Hold Midway By Sports Arena

The regular monthly supper meeting of the Board of Trade was held in Grand Union banquet room on Thursday, May 26 with William Holyk in the chair.

Due to other meetings being held the same night only a fair number of members were in attendance. Committee reports were given as follows:

The picnic shelter was under construction and it was expected to have this completed in the near future. Mr. O. Celli reported that a call for volunteers to help erect this shelter would be given as required.

There was no further report on the Jubilee plans at this time.

Considerable discussion took place in regards to the holding of the rodeo this year. Some felt that it should be dropped this year owing to the uncertain circumstances regarding the unemployment picture here in Coleman, a vote was taken and the membership approved that the rodeo be held as usual, and that the midway to be brought-in by Cavalcade Shows would be erected in the area adjacent to the sports arena.

Mr. O. Celli, chairman of the carnival committee, which intends to hold a carnival in September requested that an assistant chairman be appointed to assist him on this project, but this matter was left in the hands of the committee concerned.

Mr. William Holyk, president of the Board of Trade gave an interesting report on the results of the delegation that went to Edmonton to interview the government regarding the employment situation resulting from the recent lay-off of miners from the Coleman Collieries. Mr. Holyk stated that "we were given a sincere welcome in Edmonton, and our representations were well received, that considerable credit must be given to Mr. John Stokluk, vice-president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America for the considerable effort that he exerted and to the other members of the delegation who also gave an excellent report to the government on the situation. Mr. William Kovach, M.L.A. P. J. Loe, employment service manager of Blairmore, and T. J. Costigan of the Blairmore Board of Trade, Coleman delegates were Mayor P. Abousaify, Norman Ash, William Holyk and Harry Boulton.

Mr. Holyk called upon Mr. Boulton to give his impressions of the delegation's results. Mr. Boulton stated that he was pleased to see that the government was going to give assistance to the unemployed in this area, especially so in regards to the Forestry Department where the department were going to hire men to re-open former trails into our forest areas so as fire-fighting equipment could be moved in when required. He further stated that we should continue to press for more men on this project as our forests were in great need of fire protection, and further suggested that the Joint Board of Trade in the Pass area, invite forest conservation board officials to visit the Pass area so as a complete picture may be presented to the Conservation Board. Mr. Holyk reported that the government had agreed to pay 80c towards the cost of transportation of miners to Fernie. That the Highways Department had hired 20 local men effective at once.

There was to be further hiring of miners at Fernie. This report was highly received by members and a vote of thanks was extended to the delegation.

J. R. Hill gave a report of the progress made by the Juvenile Sports committee recently set up in Coleman to administer juvenile sports, that three more members be elected from the board to represent them on this committee. The members appointed were John Holyk, Jim Kerr and J. Allen, sr.

The matter of a $75 contribution from the board to assist in setting up administration of the Sports committee was rejected by the membership, as they felt that all citizens of Coleman should be solicited to support this cause, and that the youths concerned should shoulder some of the effort themselves. A recommendation was sent to the Sports committee on juvenile sports outlining the board's suggestions for consideration.

Considerable discussion arose over the suggestion of erecting signs in Coleman to assist travelers and tourists to the downtown area.

Members felt that not enough was being done to invite tourists to the downtown area. One member stated that if 2 per cent of all of the tourist trade stopped and shopped in our stores it was well worth considering. It was decided by all the members to press for permission to allow signs to be erected in Coleman, and that the town council be approached to amend the existing by-law to allow signs to be erected.

A committee was appointed to present a brief to the town council in regards to the amending of the sign by-law. The committee to approach the council are: President W. Holyk, J. R. Hill, and J. Allen, sr.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Coleman Ravens Swamp Pincher Creek In Week-end Double-Header

The Coleman Ravens, of the Junior Baseball League scored 45 runs in trouncing Pincher Creek 20-1 and 26-4, in Pincher Sunday. The Pincher squad is a juvenile club entered in the Southern Alberta Junior Baseball League. It was only batting practise for the local squad.

Coach E. Mascherin gave all nineteen Coleman players a chance to play. Some of the rookies came through with fine performance. In the second game Vernon Groszko came through with a hit that scored two runs. Also in the second game, Kemp hit a single with the bases loaded and cleaned up the sacks when the center fielder committed an error.

In the first game, Tymchyna went all the way, striking out 13, allowing only three hits and walking none.

In the second game, Frerot pitched six innings allowing one run, striking out 11 and walking one. He was touched for four hits. In the seventh, Steve Saloff, a rookie lefthander took the mound. He was a little shaky however, and an error by E. Peickla, the back-catcher, and two walks, filled the bases. He was relieved by Tomlins, who finished the inning by striking out two and assisting in another put-out, but not before all base runners scored.

— Summary —

First Game — Coleman - 20 runs, 14 hits and one error. Pincher Creek - one run, three hits and 11 errors. Winning pitcher - Walt Tymchyna and losing pitcher - Smith.

Second Game — Coleman - 26 runs, 14 hits and 3 errors. Pincher Creek - 4 runs, 4 hits and 8 errors. Two Coleman home runs were by Rypien and Tomlins.

Due to the length of the innings, both games were calling at the end of seven innings.

Come and see your local team hustle. Look for the banner across main street when the boys will play at home.

Early dental health habits save pain, annoyance later

If your child follows the usual pattern, he may well be a dental cripple by the time he is in his 40's. Dental disease affects practically everyone at some time. The pain, annoyance and even facial disfigurement of dental decay—for instance, affects 90 to 95 percent of the population.

The most effective approach to the nation's dental disease problem lies in instilling the right kind of dental health habits in children early in life and in making available to them sound preventive measures.

Less sugar

Since sugar is the arch enemy of your child's teeth, one of the basic rules for sound dental health is the elimination of excessive amounts of sugar in the diet. In this regard, the between-meal snack looms as the worst offender. Foods commonly eaten by children between meals often contain dental decay because each snack generates the production of new enamel-destroying acids.

Parents are urged to substitute such other foods as milk, popcorn, potato chips, cheese or fresh fruits when children want to nibble between meals because these foods appraise the appetite without adding to the harmful decay-producing acids.

The toothbrush—when used properly—remains one of the most effective weapons for preventing tooth decay. It should be used immediately after eating—especially after the eating of sweets—because the build-up of enamel-destroying acids occurs rapidly after meals and snacks.

Right method

However, the toothbrush can dislodge the sticky food particles only if it is used the right way. Since these food particles are most likely to adhere to areas between the teeth, the best method of toothbrushing concentrates on these.

In cleaning the teeth, the upper teeth should be brushed downward and the lower teeth should be brushed upward. The brushes should be worked between the teeth. The chewing surfaces should also be cleaned as well as the inside surfaces facing the tongue.

A child should be taught to use a toothbrush as soon as all his first teeth have come in—usually between the ages of two and three. He may not do a very good job and his mother or father will probably have to go over the teeth afterward, but the groundwork will have been laid for a basic dental health habit at an early age.

MILK SUPPLIES

Raw milk may be dangerous—it may carry the germs of undulant fever, typhoid or paratyphoid fevers, septic sore throat or other serious diseases due to infection on the cattle or careless handling of the milk after milking. If pasteurized milk is not obtainable in the country, it is a simple matter to heat the milk to 140 deg. F. and then cool quickly. Local departments of health have a free folder entitled "Safe Milk" which explains home pasteurization methods.

SAFE TO LIVE IN

A surprisingly high percentage of accidents happen in the home. To find the hazards and remedy them, it is a good idea to make periodic surveys of the house and grounds, from basement to roof. Loose boards or steps on the verandah, a projecting nail, broken windows and loose scatter rugs on a polished floor are just a few of the hazards in most homes. In almost all these minor danger spots, a few minutes work will make them safe.

During the earliest centuries of recorded history, legal marriage was not a human birthright, but a special privilege of the ruling classes.

Yazizik works as a coal miner and delivery man to keep himself and family in food, says he pays $130 a week for groceries.

900,000 Trees and cuttings go out to 1,355 Alberta farmers

"As lovely as a tree" is a saying with real meaning for those who have ordered shelterbelt trees. Something over 900,000 trees and cuttings are being expressed to 1,355 Alberta farmers according to Mr. P. D. McCalla, Alberta's supervisor of horticulture.

Each farmer who has ordered trees is notified ahead of time that they are on the way. This enables him to arrange to pick up the trees as soon as they arrive at the express office. It is important to get the trees and cuttings into the soil immediately. Good top soil should be packed firmly around the roots of the trees and they should be watered.

The cuttings should be planted at an angle of 45 degrees or resting against the side of the furrow, with one bud left above the ground. It is advisable to plant the cuttings in moist soil, and like the trees, they should be watered immediately after planting.

Many farmers find, however, that they are not able to plant the trees in their permanent positions as soon as they arrive. These men have found that if they untie the bundles on arrival and place the trees or cuttings in a trench on the shady north side of a building with the roots covered and packed with moist soil (cuttings completely buried) they are able to prevent drying until they

GARDEN NOTES—

Regular paths add interest, beauty to any garden

Regular paths will add interest and beauty to any garden, even in the vegetable patch. Where traffic is heavy such as near the door or a gate, it is advisable to use some material like flagstones, concrete slabs, bricks or cinder, or gravel, fine and well pressed down.

With any of these the main thing is to place firmly and level with the surrounding grass, so that the lawn mower will trim or better still run right over. Where the traffic is lighter, one can simply use grass. It is surprising the amount of wear well grown and well nourished grass will stand.

In many public gardens grass paths are used to divide the flower plots and they are seldom worn thin. Where cinder or gravel is used in paths or driveways one can eliminate grass and weeds by sprinkling heavily with rock salt or treating with some of the weed sprays.

Give 'em room

In almost every case where plants are started from seed, and especially tiny seed, like lettuce or alyssum or poppies, they must be thinned later. In doing this usually "we pull out the poorer specimens first but in any case we must leave plenty of room. If we are afraid of later damage, one bug or cutworm perhaps we will leave twice as many plants as at first, then later on we remove every other one.

In certain vegetables like beets and carrots, too, we leave the plants about an inch or so apart at first, then use later thinning for our first main crop. When thinned properly the plants left will grow more quickly, and should be healthier.

Thinning is not always confined to seedlings. The extra big and fine blooms you usually see in the flower shows are often the result of thinning. Only in this case it will be the flower buds that are removed.

Instead of letting every single rose, peony, or dahia develop, the professionals nip off about 50 percent or more of the buds so that those that are left will be

The Sports Clinic

(An official department of Sports College)
Conducted by Lloyd "Ace" Percival
Throwing accuracy

All young baseball players should make sure that they step with that front foot directly to the target at which they are throwing. Too many young ball players get in the habit of stepping across in front of the back foot and with the toes of the front foot pointing off to the side. What they should do is make sure that they point the toes of their forward foot directly at the target. This improves accuracy and helps to release the rear hip so that the leg action is smooth in the throw.

Strengthen hitting weaknesses

The hardest ball for a right-hander to hit is low over the inside corner. For the average left-hander the bad spot is low and outside. There are exceptions to these of course. This information should be of some value to all the pitchers reading this.

Weaknesses in batting can be easily strengthened. To do this get extra hitting practice with the ball being thrown to these weak areas. When you know your weak spots it is wise to never swing at a ball thrown in these areas unless you have two strikes on you or, of course, if the hit and run play has been called.

Young ball players should make a study of his weak spots. Study shows that 80 percent of the young ball players have no idea at all of their actual weaknesses. They just hit some and missed others. So, take a tip and find your weak spot in the strike zone—and do something about it.

Butter on the training table

Besides being palatable, butter, when used in conjunction with other foods, is the most easily digested form of fat. Some fat is needed in the daily diet and butter provides an excellent source. Butter has an important place on the athletic training table and should also be used in cooking. We suggest very little butter, if any, on the actual day of a game or competition. At all other times it should be given a regular place in the daily diet of an athlete.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

WALK WITH HIM TO KNOW THE CHRIST

To know the Christ, to see the Messiah revealed in Jesus of Nazareth, should not be difficult for us.

We have before us the accumulated evidence of the New Testament Gospels.

We might envy the experience of those who first saw Him and heard Him when He was here on earth, but we have advantages that they did not have.

We of today stand with all the evidences and assurances of the time and the ages.

But for us, as for those who saw and heard with wonderment, the Christ does not come with His fullness unless we, too, see Him with wonderment.

The first essential for the knowledge of the Christ is to know that story of the earthly life of Jesus, to walk with Him in Galilee, Samaria and Judea, to wander in the fields and villages and byways, as well as to journey to the fests, Jerusalem and the Temple.

An amazing thing about the Gospels is that they are always new. They convey always a sense of wonder.

It is as we read and know the Gospels that the truth and richness and the experience of all that follows comes alive—the letters of St. Paul, and of Peter, James and John; the effect of the Gospel upon disciples in a pagan world, and the revelation of what Christ has been to those who have known, loved and followed Him in all the centuries of Christian faith.

"To know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge..." That is the richest and greatest experience man can have, and any man can have it.

Strictly Fresh

Fellow we heard of had to pay tax on the fee his wife received for turning him in as a smuggler. Internal Revenue boys ruled it was earned income. That's enough to tax a man's impulse to murder.

Gardeners who are looking forward to a crop of flowers just like those pictured on the seed packets often harvest a crop of disappointment.

Stretching a coincidence to the breaking point is the amount of lemon in relation to the total amount of lemonade sold by small boys from their sidewalk stands.

The fellow who used to ride in the rumble seat with his best girl has advanced to the grumble seat behind the wheel.

Main across the desk from us has gone down for the third time in the office baseball pool. He'll receive from his no-gambling pledge just in time to throw one more in the first football pools next fall.

Most birds are gardeners' friends

Almost all birds are the gardeners' friends, and we would do well to attract them not only as protection against insects but for their own beauty. Invitations there are in plenty. Shrubs and trees, bird houses, feeding stations and watering or bathing pools, all will help to bring wrens and orioles and robins.

But we can do more than this. There are certain bright flowers that have a special appeal for humming birds. There are all sorts of shrubs with bright and edible fruit or seeds that will invite cardinals. It pays well to study the special likes of the birds, to plant things that will produce food and shelter in winter as well as in summer.

Proper control not outright destruction

Proper control of predatory animals and birds does not mean their complete destruction, advises F. M. McCormick, executive director of the Canadian Civilian Association of Marksmen.

Mr. McCormick says that all animals and birds have their place in nature and it is only when their population level gets out of all proportion that control is necessary.

Pointing to starlings as an example, he says that his species of bird has become a nightmare with many urban civic authorities. Lacking a natural enemy and thriving in settled areas where shooting is forbidden, the starling quickly went out of control. Flocks are a similar nuisance in many locations.

Coyotes, foxes and even skunks have become so numerous in many parts of Canada, they form a threat to farmers' livestock and poultry and have to be controlled. In other areas, gophers, groundhogs and jackrabbits are in the predator class which offer good sport for season hunting to varmint enthusiasts.

The crow and the magpie are a couple of winged marauders, which have been steadily getting out of hand in recent years and also provide good sport for varminters.

While admittedly these birds do eat harmful insects, their piracy of nests of song and game birds far outweighs their virtues, Mr. McCormick says.

SMILE OF THE WEEK

The bashful bride whispered to her husband as they entered the hotel: "Jack, dear, let's try to make the other people think we've been married a long time."

"All right, honey. But do you think you can carry both suit cases?"

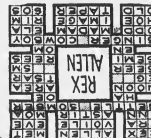

Today is yesterday's pupil.

Urges serious consideration on dehorning

REGINA.—Eric Beveridge, livestock commissioner for Saskatchewan, recently urged farmers to give serious consideration to the problem of dehorning cattle.

"This is calving time," he said, "and nearly two-thirds of the beef calves will be dropped in the next two months. Horned cattle are a liability to the farmer and the time to dehorn calves is when they are from ten days to two weeks old."

Truckers, packers and tanners have repeatedly stated horn damage is high in Canadian cattle and that they are more difficult to handle. Farmers are actually importing hides because they are comparatively clear of the injuries, scores and scars of which horn damage is a part. Horn bruises result in blood clotting deep in the flesh. Small horns on young cattle make a deep prod as well as long scores.

"It is a known fact," the commissioner noted, "that packer buyers usually bid somewhat less for horned cattle than for cattle without horns, because they know there will be some loss due to trimmed out meat."

"Livestock buyers are on the alert for livestock that have been running with horned cattle, they know that horns cause damage."

"Horned cattle are at a distinct disadvantage in the feedlot for they need more room, make less rapid gains and commonly sell at lower prices on the market because of damage to hides and carcasses."

"The most satisfactory method of dehorning is still the caustic paste," said Commissioner Beveridge, "although the caustic stick is still widely used and is highly effective. One application, applied according to instructions with package is sufficient."

The trunk of the occipital, a desert tree, grows in the ground like a tree.

Hundreds of replies received plus other data for Jubilee

REGINA.—A small advertisement for Saskatchewan's Golden Jubilee, placed in Saskatchewan weeklies and dailies, has travelled all across Canada and the United States as a result of its appeal for the names and addresses of former Saskatchewan residents.

The "ad" has brought hundreds of direct replies that not only have supplied the desired names, but also have provided much historical information and many old pictures.

A. Thielton, of Hermosa Beach, California, can be regarded as a typical example of the reaction of former Saskatchewanians when they see the "ad." He saw the Jubilee announcement in a home-town paper that found its way down to California. He immediately wrote back for more details, stating that he was in Regina for the province's inauguration celebrations on September 4, 1905, and wanted to return for the fiftieth anniversary.

Was cashier

In 1905 Mr. Thielton was cashier in the department of Municipal Affairs (at that time called the Local Improvement Branch) of the Public Works department. J. N. Bayne was head of the branch at that time, and was later succeeded by J. J. Smith.

Mr. Thielton enclosed three pictures taken in Regina on September 4, 1905, that are of interest to the Provincial Archives. One picture shows a foot-race on Eleventh avenue. In his letter Mr. Thielton states that Longboat, the famous Indian runner, was in the race but hurt his ankle and was forced to withdraw.

Dr. G. C. Armitage, of Brantford, Ont., in his letter of greeting to the Golden Jubilee Committee, encloses a public school teacher's certificate granted to his mother, the former Miss Jennie Beattie, by the Board of Education in Regina on October 25, 1892. The First Class certificate allowed Miss Beattie to teach in any school in the North West Territories.

That certificate has been photographed by the Provincial Archivist for his records and returned to Dr. Armitage.

WEDDINGS

Malone - MacQuarrie

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized Monday, May 23rd in St. Paul's United Church at Coleman, at 2 p.m. when Della Catherine, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacQuarrie became the bride of Donald Edward (Ted) Malone, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Malone of Natal, B.C.

The Rev. Roy Chubb of Blairmore, performed the double ring ceremony. The bride entered the church, which was decorated with bouquets of spring flowers, on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Wedding March. She was radiant in a waist-length gown of nylon lace over taffeta, sleeveless bodice featuring the new torso length, low scalloped neckline, skirt with front panel of lace over taffeta, bouffant side panels of plain net over taffeta, matching lace bolero with tiny collar and long lily-point sleeves. She wore a matching finger-tip veil of nylon red edged with lace attached to her twin sister's coronet of seed pearls. White pumps completed her ensemble. Her only jewellery, a gift of the groom, was a pair of drop crystal star ear-rings. She carried a crescent bouquet of white lilies and red roses.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Mel Dunford, attired in a lovely floor-length gown of dark green faille taffeta, complemented with a double string of pearls, white gloves and tiara. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white carnations with rosebud centre.

Miss Helen MacLean of Inverness, Nova Scotia, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, dressed in a waist-length gown of broadened nylon lace in the new shrimp color. Her dress featured a strapless top with matching bolero, full skirt finished with nylon net ruffles over taffeta, a matching coronet of rosebuds, rhinestone necklace and ear-rings. She also carried a nosegay of yellow and white carnations.

Attending the groom were Mr. George Malone, Jr., of Trail, best man for his brother, and Allister MacQuarrie, Mr. Mel Dunford and Mr. Ron Jenkins acted as ushers. Miss Frances Dible sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "Through the Years", during the ceremony, accompanied by Mrs. Gwen Cousins.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother received the guests wearing a navy blue rayon crepe dress trimmed at the neckline with white beads, navy and white accessories and a pink carnation corsage completed her ensemble. The groom's mother chose a navy rayon faille dress with diamante pin pink carnation corsage and navy accessories.

A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with bridal bells, centred the bride's table. Bouquets of colorful snapdragons and carnations decorated the living room.

The Rev. Roy Chubb proposed a toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

For going-away the bride chose a two-piece Logan knit suit in the new copper tone, matching gloves, model straw hat with avocado trim, avocado green bag and shoes, corsage of red roses.

The happy couple left for their wedding trip to be spent at U.S. points, and on their return they will reside in Natal, B.C.

Out of town guests were Miss Sadie McDougall Taber; Mrs. Mary Brown and daughter, of Claresholm; Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDougall Hillcrest; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kometz, Lehighridge; Mrs. Edith Kometz, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Earl McGinnis, Natal; Mr. Archie and Donald Waldron, Vernon, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bakken, Natal; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Jenkins, Cranbrook; Mr. and Mrs. R. ## Carling's Comes To Alberta

Carling's Black Label product will be on the market in Alberta before the end of July, said S. F. Heard, President of Red Deer Brewing Co. Ltd., following an extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders held in the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, on May 25th.

It was unanimously agreed at the meeting that the name of the company should be changed to The Carling Breweries (Alberta) Limited. The shareholders welcomed the opportunity thus given their company to produce at the Red Deer plant the beer which has the fastest growing sales in Canada. Mr. Adam Carson, the company's brewmaster, who served Carling's in Ontario in a similar capacity for several years, will be directly responsible for production.

To further guarantee the exact quality of Carling's Black Label product, arrangements have been made with The Carling Breweries Limited to have their Production Manager of Brewing, Mr. Stan Parker, work in conjunction with the brewing staff of The Carling Breweries (Alberta) Limited. Mr. Parker's main responsibilities with The Carling Breweries Limited are control of equality and co-ordination of production of their numerous plants to produce a uniform product throughout Canada. It is largely due to his efforts that such unparalleled public acceptance has been attained in this country, England and the United States. It is planned that Mr. Parker will work very closely with Mr. Carson in Red Deer.

BABY TAN

A coat of tan can add to the beauty of any baby but it must be carefully and painlessly acquired. By letting him be in the sunshine before an open window, well protected from drafts, he can acquire an attractive tint. Ten minutes a day for the first two weeks, 15 minutes for the next two weeks and so on, up to 30 minutes daily will be sufficient. His eyes should be protected from direct glare.

THE RAILROAD industry predicts that in the not-too-distant future passenger trains will look like this. These sketches, being shown at the 45th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the U.S., are by industrial designers.

THE ATOMIC-POWERED car of the future which may be equipped with electronic devices, alerting the driver to road conditions ahead.

ACTRESS SARAH CHURCHILL, daughter of Sir Winston Churchill, stands behind a long-lens camera in Nevada, awaiting the much-delayed atomic blast. She was invited as special guest to view explosion.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

MR. ROHAN SEES THE LIGHT

By MYRON J. BIENSTOCK

ROD COOPER tucked his empty right sleeve back into his pocket, and glanced apprehensively at the house numbers above the door. Twelve-zero-four, the letter in answer to his application had said. This was it, the imposing residence of Joseph Rohan, the almost legendary head of Inter-American Steel, one of the greatest steel mills in the country.

He squared his shoulders, swept an unruly strand of hair back into his place, and pressed the bell. His lean, sensitive face was tense, a worried look in his dark eyes. The door opened, and a maid looked at him questioningly.

"My name is Cooper," he said. "Mr. Rohan is expecting me."

"Will you come in, please?" she replied, staring at his empty sleeve.

He flushed angrily, and stepped into the hall.

"You may wait here, sir," she said. "I'll see if Mr. Rohan is busy." She disappeared through a door at the opposite end of the hall. "Go right in, sir," she said quickly, when she returned. "Mr. Rohan will see you now."

Rod stepped through the carved oak door into a large, well-appointed study. The walls were paneled in dark oak, with rows upon rows of heavy books in shelves running half way to the high ceiling. A deep Persian rug muffled his steps. The partially drawn blinds revealed the study to semi-darkness.

"Step right over here, Mr. Cooper," came a mild, clear voice from the man in a chair in the corner. "Sit down, and we'll talk business."

As Rod approached the deep leather chair, a sharp bark stopped him. A large, handsome dog was stretched out in front of him, evading him suspiciously. He skirted the animal, and sank into the chair.

"Don't mind Champ," Rohan said. "He's suspicious of everybody. We're very attached to each other."

He laughed good naturedly. "He never leaves my side for a minute. Why, he even goes to the plant with me." He paused a moment.

"I guess you think it's strange to call you here for this interview, Mr. Cooper. But it's not my usual custom," he continued. "I'm recovering from a rather nasty cold, and won't be able to get back to the offices at the plant for another few days. You see," he added, "I like to take a personal interest in hiring the employees of Inter-American."

He leaned back in his chair, holding his spectacles, a wiry man with a full, ruddy face, and thin grey hair. His faded blue eyes darted past Rod, and fastened on the wall.

"Tell me son, how was it over there?" he asked. "I got from your letter of application you were in the Pacific. Pretty rough, I suppose?"

Rod laughed, a harsh, guttural sound in the quiet room. "Yes, made of tough and water-repellent fabric, the accessories can be cleaned with a damp cloth. The rain-or-shine hat and handbag are made of tumbled vinyl sheeting in a Windsor tweed pattern."

"Oh yes, sorry, Rod," he paused uncomfortably, and after a moment, continued, "Hope you don't mind if I call you Rod?" He raised his eyebrows questioningly.

"No, sir. That's quite all right."

"Well, then, suppose we get down to business," the old man continued. "I see you worked for the Grey Company for four years. Why didn't you go back to your old job?"

"They went out of business, sir. That lets me out, I'm afraid."

"How were you doing there?" Mr. Rohan asked, his eyes shifting back to Rod, and then down to the desk. "What position did you hold?"

"Well, sir, I started as a junior accountant," Rod answered, "and rose to assistant to the head of the department by the time I entered the service."

"Hmmm," murmured the old man, "that's travelling quite a distance in three or four years, wasn't it?" Of course," he continued rapidly. "I don't think you'll advance as quickly in our organization. We're rather large, you know. But I think you know we don't hesitate to reward good work." He paused, and toyed with the letter on his desk.

"There's one thing that makes me hesitate, Rod," he continued, somewhat hesitantly. "You sent your letter of application that you lost an arm in the service. Were you right or left handed, son?"

"Cold hands of sweat popped out on Rod's forehead. It was the same question they all asked. How many personnel managers had he seen? A dozen? More? He could still see the looks in their eyes as they shook their heads. "You'll keep you in mind if there's an opening," they would say, as they coughed politely.

Couldn't they realize that it was more than just a job, to him? More than just getting back into the routine? He felt, deep inside him, that it was his Holy Grail. Its capture would signify that he was not a useless hulk of a man, a burden on the community; an object of pity from which people averted their eyes.

No, they never put it into words, those personnel men. "Not enough experience," they would say, as they turned their eyes from that empty sleeve. Suddenly a new thought flashed on him. He would tell Rohan that he had been left handed. He would tell him that his ability hadn't been impaired. The old man would never know the difference, after the practice he got in the hospital. His left hand was almost as good as his right had been. Besides, the industrialist would no doubt forget about him, once he had been hired.

He opened his mouth to speak, but a tight fist grasped his vocal cords. His forehead glistened with perspiration, as he hesitated. That wasn't the way, he thought. It was only a substitute. A lie, which would be constantly eating at his self-respect, and would never give him peace.

"I was right handed, Mr. Rohan," he said in resignation. "I lost my right arm, sir," he said, suddenly pleading. "All I need is a chance to show you. I'm not perfect yet, but I can keep accounts fairly legibly, writing left handed." He paused watching the old man. Rohan's face remained impassive. He fumbled with the letter, and rubbed his hand over his chin.

The same as all the rest, Rod thought. They won't even look directly at me. Probably thinking of the easiest way to say it. He laughed bitterly to himself.

The old man looked up suddenly. "Mr. Cooper," he stated, "suppose you report for work on Monday."

Rod leaned forward, his eyes wide, as the words crashed home.

ALL-WEATHER HATS AND MATCHING HANDBAGS are being introduced in North America for the first time by Nadelle. Made of tough and water-repellent fabric, the accessories can be cleaned with a damp cloth. The rain-or-shine hat and handbag are made of tumbled vinyl sheeting in a Windsor tweed pattern.

Federal health grants totalling $63,500 allotted to Alberta

OTTAWA.—Hon. Paul Martin, minister of National Health and Welfare, has confirmed that the federal government has allotted Alberta more than $63,500 under the terms of the National Health program.

A grant of $10,700 will help provide the necessary funds to equip a virus centre in the provincial laboratory at Edmonton. The virus centre will take on some of the routine investigations now being conducted by the laboratory of hygiene at Ottawa. This will enable the Ottawa laboratory to function as a consultant and reference institute. The Edmonton centre will be under the direction of Dr. C. R. Amies, who is a widely recognized expert in virology.

Late last year a survey was begun in Alberta to study infant diseases in the province and to institute a program to alleviate the problems associated with infant mortality. A grant of $6,195 will enable the project to be extended another year.

A $6,945 grant goes to Lethbridge to establish a Guidance Clinic. The clinic will provide facilities for diagnosing and treating adults and children showing early signs of mental maladjustment. For the time being the new service will be staffed by a social worker and a stenoclerk under the supervision of the Calgary Guidance Clinic.

Helpful Hints

A fit of sneezing can be stopped by swallowing three or four tablespoonfuls of milk very slowly. Less sugar will be required when steaming fruit if one teaspoonful of lemon is added to every pound of fruit.

When baking potatoes, first grease them with a little butter and they will be brown and crisp with a nice glazed appearance.

To add a "touch of the south" to chicken gravy, stir 1 tablespoon of peanut butter into each pint of gravy.

Gum camphor laid among books on the shelves, or any hints of mice, will keep them away.

Mix 15 drops of solution of ammonia and a half pint of spirits of turpentine. Put the gloves on and apply the mixture with a brush, repeating until clean. Then hang in the air to dry.

When it is desired to cool a dish of pudding or any other hot food quickly, set it in a pan of cold water which has been liberally salted.

to him. "You mean I'm... I'm hired?" His voice lifted eagerly. "I don't know how to thank you, I... I..."

"You don't have to thank me, son," the industrialist laughed. "I know you'll do well at the job." He smiled. "Reminds me," he said reminiscently, "of the time I asked for a chance, some 25 years ago."

He called to the dog, and when the animal approached, he bent over and ran his hand over its body, until he touched the heavy harness.

"Come on, Champ," he said. "Let's show Rod to the door."

In restricted area

Persons found using minnows for bait will be prosecuted

PRINCE ALBERT.—A sweeping extension of carp control marks the only major change in Saskatchewan's sport fishing regulations this year, Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank has announced.

He said newly passed regulations extend the area in which minnows and other small fish cannot be used as angling bait to cover all waters below the 55th parallel of north latitude.

This northern boundary represents a line running from Primrose lake on the Alberta border, east across Saskatchewan some 150 miles north of Prince Albert to the Manitoba border, just north of Flin Flon.

Mr. Brockelbank said this control measure had been written into fisheries regulations in an effort to prevent the spread of carp in the province. This destructive fish is highly detrimental to game species and in Saskatchewan, has already been found in the Assiniboine river and in Round and Crooked lakes in the Qu'Appelle waterway.

Last year, the fisheries branch set up a 25,000 square mile area in southeastern Saskatchewan, where use of all small fish as bait was prohibited, in an initial move to head off spreading carp. Mr. Brockelbank said it was now necessary to extend this measure of control to cover all of central and southern Saskatchewan.

He warned that any person found using minnows or other small fish as bait for angling in this portion of the province would be prosecuted.

would be prosecuted. "We cannot afford to be lenient here," he said.

Explaining the necessity for the new carp control regulation, Mr. Brockelbank said anglers could easily mistake carp fingerlings for harmless minnow species. Taking these fingerlings from one water area and using them as bait in another was "the surest way" of spreading carp, he said.

'Metropolis' reduced to white cairn

EDMONTON.—A decaying house and church, a grave yard and a white cairn overlooking the Peace river are all that remain of an old trading post in northern Alberta.

These sparse clues of civilization mark Fort Duvenage, established as a trading post in 1805 although its history dated back to 1793 when it was visited by Alexander MacKenzie and David Thompson.

It was the year after the Edmonton, Duvenage and British Columbia Railway was granted a charter in 1913 that Fort Duvenage gained wide, if somewhat dubious fame. Promoters in Edmonton and other cities advertised "Duvenage City" as the new "metropolis of the Peace river" with lots for sale at $100 to $200 on easy terms.

Many residents of Britain and the United States invested in land in the mythical city, pictured as having paved streets and sidewalks. Some came to visit their property. None stayed.

The old fort was gradually abandoned and any brief prominence it attained had faded by 1918 when it was closed as a trading post and sold as farm land to Robert Peters.

Home Workshop

Thatched bird houses have a certain quaintness about them that seems fitting for a bird's home. We seldom see them any more in this country since small eggs and boxes are no longer used for packing nails, butter and other wares. There are lots of round metal containers available that make attractive bird houses when thatched and painted to look like the old time wooden ones. Pattern 342 shows how to make a variety of thatched nesting places for wrens, blue birds, purple martins and many others that brood in the middle latitudes. The thatching process is really quite simple. Each step is shown with large diagrams on the pattern which readers may order for 35c from this address:

UTILITY TABLE
PATTERN 372

This big table provides for that big family dinner party; for games, hobbies, carpenter work or for dressmaking. When not needed store it in a closet or even behind a door. This is just the table for those bazaars and group activities at churches, clubs and community houses. Stock sizes of lumber are used. The pattern gives a cutting list for the lumber and the hardware needed for one table. All the parts are square cuts made with a hand saw. Order pattern 372 as shown in the sketch, enclosing only 35c; or the table pattern may be ordered with the Sewing Corner Packet consisting of five standard size patterns for $1.50 postpaid.
